LOS ANGELES DAILY TIMES.

VOL. X---NO. 31. LOS ANGELES, CALIFORNIA, FRIDAY MORNING, JULY 9, 1886. FIVE CENTS.

The Times.

Office—Temple, Main and New High.

WELLSVILLE, O., has voted that prohibition does prohibit, 515 to 294.

CLEVELAND'S Consul General to Japan was too harem scarem, and the Senate properly applied the bowstring to his official neck.

CONGRESSMAN JACKSON, of Pennsylvania, insinuates that the President is an offensive partisan in the matter of vetoing pensions.

THE patriotic editor of the Marysville Evening Democrat issued a large edition of his journal on the 5th, which appeared on red, white and blue paper.

THE Hurled doesn't admire Pixley's patriotic periods. It could hardly be expected to. The Herald has frequently announced its disgust at the prevalence of the "d—d Yankee" in this country.

THE Covina Exponent rejoices over the prospect of the completion of the Los Angeles and San Gabriel railroad to its section by September next. It claims inside information that the rails and ties have been purchased for this extension.

THE Daily Santa Monica Wave is not too young to have a Los Angeles correspondent, who starts out by speaking of the Democratic candidates for Congress as "J. D. Lynch, the great snorter of the orange groves, and B. F. Del Valle, the smooth." First thing that correspondent knows, he will be hit over the head with a decasyllable.

THE San Francisco Alta makes this rather frank concession to San Francisco's Fourth of July oration:

"Pixley has spoken, and the American eagle has been vindicated and is proud as though she had laid an egg. The American Labouchere has set the fashion of many a future oration on Independence Day, and maybe he has done something toward outlining new party forms."

COMMENTING on the fact that Marysville is suffering from incendiarism, the San Francisco Chronicle advises a citizens' patrol to catch the fire bugs, and then speaks right out in meeting thus-wise: "We trust soon to be able to record the arrest and lynching of some of these rascals who put in jeopardy the lives and property of hundreds in order to feed their petty spite or gratify their destructive propensities." It is not a charitable wish, but it seems to be justified.

THE narrow escape from drowning of a young lady at Long Beach, last Sunday, ought to suggest to the powers that be of that place the advisability of running a safety line from the beach out beyond the breakers. The expense of a couple of kedge anchors and rope and buoys enough to complete the apparatus would be very inconsiderable, and the Long Beach company can well afford it. One of these days a bather without nerve enough to sustain himself in the water half or three-quarters of an hour might be swept out by a current and drowned.

AMUSEMENTS.

FOR CONGRESS.—This amusing sketch was repeated last evening at the Opera House by the John T. Raymond Company, and was listened to with increased pleasure by a well-filled house. Of the three characters presented by Mr. Raymond to the Los Angeles public in this engagement, it is not difficult to make choice of "Gen. Josiah Limber," the astute wire-puller and professional politician, as the one in which his peculiar and almost unrivalled ability shines to the greatest advantage. Without the slightest disparagement to his other efforts, which are well rounded, individualized and complete in their way, there is at the same time something eminently characteristic in "Gen. Josiah Limber" which is to a certain extent lacking in the other characters Mr. Raymond assumes. This politician is, in fact, the type of a class, and in his personation there is not a word, look or gesture which is without its meaning. The effects he produces are broad and telling, appealing readily to the understanding and evoking a mirthful sympathy with apparently little effort on his part. Everyone who is a lover of dry humor should see him in this character. The play will be repeated to-night, and the season will close to-morrow.

American Legion of Honor Installation.

The officers-elect of Good Will Council No. 629, A. L. of H., for the ensuing term were installed on Wednesday evening, July 7, by C. G. Willman, D. D. G. C., as follows: Commander, S. A. Clarke, M. D.; Vice Commander, W. Bounsefell; Past Commander, J. J. Carpenter; Orator, R. Zeller; Secretary, B. Thomas; Collector, C. G. Willman; Treasurer, F. Guenther; Chaplain, W. A. Ferson; Guide, Mrs. P. E. Willman; Warden, L. H. Boring; Sentry, A. O. Major.

Serenaded.

The TIMES had a charming serenade at 12:45 this morning, from the Seventh Infantry Band, which has been doing such excellent work under Mr. Bartlett's leadership. They rendered in first-rate style an overture, the "Carousal Galop," and "Home, Sweet Home." They had previously serenaded Hon. H. T. Hazard, Mayor Spence, Judge B. M. Widney and Major W. H. H. Russell. The boys have done faithful work, and are becoming creditably proficient.

Vacation Excursion.

The first Pullman excursion from Los Angeles to Eastern cities was one of Sigler's popular parties, which left yesterday on the north bound train via the Southern Pacific, Denver and Rio Grande, and Chicago, Burlington and Quincy railroads. It was a fine party, under the experienced and gentlemanly management of S. J. Mathes. The next party will leave Los Angeles for Chicago and Eastern cities about the middle of August.

A Good Investment.

A block of 15 lots, $360 each, close to Temple street cable railroad, three blocks more property close in, will divide up very profitably. All this in west part of city, very close to street railroads, and within the mile limit. All on easy terms. One choice lot on Flower street between Eighth and Ninth, west side, $2375.

JOHN N GRIFFIN,
719 Flower St.

Street Railroad Contractors.

Bids will be received until 6 p. m., Monday July 12th, at the office of the Central Railway Company, room 18 over Farmers' and Merchants' Bank, for the construction of a railroad as per specifications on file in said office.

Go for Him.

The Police Commissioners, Scale Bug Committee of the City Council, City Fruit Pest Commissioners and the sub committee of the County Horticultural Society meet this morning at 9 o'clock at the First National Bank to devise ways and means against the common enemy—the cottony cushion.

Boneshaw Bound.

Frank M. Ward, of Pasadena, and his sister, Miss Barclay, leave to-day for a trip to the East and probably to Europe. They will visit the Grand Cañon of the Colorado, Chicago, Niagara, and other points of interest en route.

PAYNE IN PICKLE.

Powerful Protest by the Sons of Ohio.

AGAINST SELLING HER SENATE SEATS.

Associated Press Dispatches to The Times.

COLUMBUS, O., July 8.—The Republican editors of Ohio met at 11 a. m. to-day, pursuant to a call, to express themselves on the action of the Senate of the United States, through its Committee on Privileges and Elections, in refusing to order an investigation of the charges made in connection with the election of Senator Henry B. Payne. There were seventy-five editors registered, and about seventy counties in the State were represented.

In the forenoon session Gen. James M. Comly, of Toledo, was elected President of the convention and S. J. Flickinger, of Columbus, Secretary, and the following committees were appointed:

Resolutions—Murat Halsted, W. S. Carpenter, Chas. F. Baldwin, J. P. Treat, John Hapley, Leo. Hirsch and Daniel A. Badd.

Permanent Organization—D. D. Taylor, W. O. Lyons, W. G. E. Bonebrake, F. Wilson, T. C. Reynolds.

The convention adjourned to 7:30 p. m., when the Committee on Resolutions submitted the following:

AN ADDRESS TO THE SENATE.

"To the Senate of the United States: The Republican editors of Ohio, in convention assembled, respectfully represent that the circumstances preceding and attending the election, in 1884, of Henry B. Payne to the United States Senate from Ohio, induced a firm belief in the public mind at the time that his election was accomplished by the corrupt use of money. Developments since have confirmed this belief. It becomes the settled conviction of the people that Payne holds his seat in the Senate as the result of bribery. It would be difficult to find a well informed person in the State seriously to dispute the fact. These convictions are not the result of partisan feeling, for it is notorious that the accusation of corruption originated with persons of opposite political opinions from ourselves, and yet the influence of money and the power of party discipline have in most cases caused them to defend rather than to denounce these charges first made by themselves. Your memorialists share the general conviction. The far reaching evils of the situation are manifest. Redress can only come from the Senate of the United States, and we therefore, respectfully and earnestly request that the Senate will direct an investigation to be made, believing that it will establish the charges of bribery and corruption formally presented by the Ohio Senate and House of Representatives. Expressions of the convictions of the Republican editors of Ohio are enclosed with these resolutions and an address adopted, and we ask that the Senate shall vindicate the character of the State, either by clearing up these charges or by purifying that honorable body from the presence of a member corruptly elected."

THE RESOLUTIONS.

"Resolved, That it is declared to be the belief of the members of this convention, and they so charge, that the election of Henry B. Payne to the Senate of the United States was procured by the corrupt use of large sums of money furnished by Mr Payne, and that this convention further declares its belief that an investigation by the Senate will substantiate this charge, and they are not aware that the fact has been in any direct and responsible way denied."

"Resolved, That the Senate Committee on Privileges and Elections be, and it is hereby requested to act favorably upon the communication of the members of the Ohio delegation in Congress asking for a reconsideration of the vote whereby the committee declined to recommend an investigation of the election of Payne, and also to take into consideration the final communications of Representatives Little and Butterworth offering further evidence of bribery in the election of Mr. Payne, and further and weightier reason for further investigation."

"Resolved, That in case the Senate Committee on Privileges and Elections adhere to its reported decision, the Senate of the United States be requested to take this decision of its Committee on Privileges and Elections into consideration and reverse it.

"Resolved, That it is suggested to the Senate of the United States not to ignore its time-honored precedents, and turn from its door a State which comes so fully supported in preferring a charge that one of its seats in that body was purchased with money, a charge which, if ignored by the Senate, must unfavorably influence the reputation of that body itself."

"Resolved, That it is the right of the people of a State, fundamental and vital in character, to have an investigation into a senatorial election therein, when the same is charged by representative and responsible authority, as has been done in this city, to have been accomplished by bribery or other corrupt means.

"Resolved, That a copy of these resolutions, attested by officers of this convention, be transmitted to the President of the Senate."

The foregoing resolutions were supplemented by the following memorial addressed to the Senate of the United States:

A MEMORIAL ADDRESS.

"The Republican editors of Ohio, assembled to consider a matter of grave concern to their State and to the Nation, ask the attention of the country to a brief presentation of the case, for the first time in history, we are a Republican State, speaking through its legislative and other equally responsible accredited agents preferring before the proper committee of the National Senate definite and well-supported charges of wholesale bribery in the purchase of one of her seats in the Senate, has, so far as the Committee on Privileges and Elections of the Senate can decide, been but turned away and refused the opportunity which she sought to make good the charges of bribery, by legal proofs. Through accredited representatives she has asked the Senate committee to reconsider the adverse decision, and while awaiting action we, as citizens of Ohio, propose to be heard. We maintain that Senators of the United States hold their seats at the hands of States acting through their respective Legislatures, that those latter bodies form the proper channel of communication between the State and the Senate in all that pertains to the integrity of its seats in that body. No instance has yet arisen in the history of the Senate where specific and well-supported charges of bribery in a Senatorial election, preferred by the Legislatures of States, have not been properly investigated by the Senate. In fact so zealous has that Senate been for its integrity and honor that it has heretofore promptly ordered an investigation upon the memorial of citizens, and in other cases upon the memorial of individual members of the Legislature charging fraud in Senatorial elections. The charge that the seat of Henry B. Payne was procured by the corrupt use of money by his immediate agents in buying votes of members of the Sixty-sixth General Assembly of Ohio, has been made before the National Senate and supported before its Committee on Privileges and Elections with such authority, directness of specification and strength of creditable and convincing evidence as has never before been brought to senatorial attention in any case which the record of Congress discloses. This will appear from the following facts:"

THE CHARGES.

"First, upon the widely printed charges that fifteen members of the Legislature, which elected Mr. Payne, had been paid money for their votes, the House of Representatives of our State promptly ordered an investigation of the case of four of its members, who had been members of the former Legislature, and who were among those charged with having received bribes. While this committee did not find evidence to prove the charges against these particular members, it did transmit evidence to the Senate of the United States which established as strong a prima facie case of fraud in the election of Payne as was ever laid before that body in any similar case.

"Second, the State Central Republican Committee of our State, at a meeting called to consider the matter, passed resolutions charging, upon information and belief, that the seat of Payne was purchased, and requesting the Senate to investigate the charge, and appointing Representative Jno. Little, of our State to appear before the Senate Committee in behalf of the Republicans of Ohio and present the proof upon which the grave charges made had been preferred."

"Third, the Senate of our State, acting for itself, formulated definite charges that the seat of Payne was bought, declared the reasons for its belief, and forwarded them to the Senate with the request that an investigation might be ordered."

"Fourth, the House of Representatives of Ohio, following the example of the Ohio Senate and acting for itself, and in addition to the report of its committee, passed a resolution charging bribery in Payne's election, and also asking the Senate to have the same investigated."

"Fifth, Representative Little appeared, according to his appointment, before the Senate Committee on Privileges and Elections, and, in a statement of unusual strength and clearness, showed that there is abundance of proof to justify the charges which had been forwarded from Ohio. At later hearings he called to his assistance Representative Butterworth, of our State, and each in a statement of great force laid before the Senate Committee a mass of additional evidence of a character which properly startled the country, although it seems to have fallen dead upon a portion of the committee. This was no less than an offer to prove by legal evidence in case the Senate would afford them an opportunity before a committee of investigation, that Oliver A. Payne, son of the Senator, contributed $100 000 toward's the purchase of a seat for his father in the Senate of the United States; that David Page, one of the managers of Payne's election, took $65,000, either of the above sum or of an independent sum, to Columbus, for use in the purchase of members of the Legislature and that John McLean, of Cincinnati, paid $100,000 to help secure votes for Payne. Besides this, Messrs. Little and Butterworth presented many proofs leading to establish the bribery of various members of the Legislature which elected Mr. Payne."

"Sixth, the colleagues of Messrs. Little and Butterworth, seeing a public statement that the Senate Committee had decided to report against the request for an investigation, addressed a communication to the Senate Committee, which has the approval of Senator Sherman, declaring that they believe in the charges of bribery brought against Payne and the further conviction that they could be established by investigation, and asking for a reconsideration of the case at the hands of the committee. It is, therefore, submitted to the Committee on Privileges and Elections to settle, and to the people of the United States that with this showing our State, thus speaking and thus affirming through regularly appointed, organized and responsible representatives, has a right to a full hearing under oath for its witnesses before a Senate committee of investigation. In case the showing thus made and the request thus formally presented and strongly supported are not deemed sufficient to justify an investigation, it will seem difficult to conceive under what circumstances citizens can obtain a hearing when charges of bribery are made. We therefore, request of the Senate in its forthcoming report from its Committee on Privileges and Elections, that it will determine and announce for the benefit of all the States of the forms which must be complied with and the conditions which must exist before the Senate will proceed to an inquiry touching the purchase of one of its seats. If the Senate requires further action than has been taken by the Ohio Republicans, it will be interesting and instructive to the country to know what its requirements can be. If the sums named by the Ohio Republicans as corruptly used to elect Payne are not sufficient to secure an investigation, it becomes important to know what limit of expenditure must be reached in order to establish a prima facie case of sufficient strength to insure an investigation. It has been publicly announced by one Senator who opposed an investigation, that his opposition is based upon the fact that the money used to purchase Mr. Payne's election was expended for caucus votes, and not for votes on the floor of the Legislature, and that the Senate cannot undertake to investigate a caucus. If this position be adopted by the Senate, it will be proclaimed hereafter that the open purchase of a caucus nomination by money will be no bar to the undisturbed occupation of a seat in the Senate of the United States. Two other Senators have declared that they opposed investigation because it does not appear that Payne was a party to the corrupt use of money. This, in other words, is to declare that a man's agents, including his nearest relations, may go among members of the State Legislature with a supply of greenbacks and buy a Senatorship with as much freedom as he would purchase a family supply of coal or provisions in the market. Finally, in adding our request for an investigation to the many already before the Senate and committee, we express the hope that the Ohio Republicans may receive that consideration which is justly due to the grave charge which they make, and which we fully indorse, and the Senate will not fail to see that its good name is involved in the question presented for its decision."

This report is also signed by each of the seventy-five editors in attendance. Other editors by telegraph asked that their names be signed to the resolutions and memorial.

The reports of the committees were unanimously adopted, after which a permanent organization was effected by the adoption of a constitution and the election of officers.

After the convention had adjourned the editors called on Gov. Foraker in a body. The Governor made a speech, in which he indorsed the action of the convention, and reviewed briefly the occasion for such action on their part. The Secretary of State and others also made speeches.

The Kansas Republicans.

TOPEKA, KAN., July 8.—The Republican State Committee reassembled this morning. The Committee on Resolutions reported back the set of resolutions which had been referred to them, recommending the passage of the platform as originally reported in these dispatches, and they were adopted.

WASHINGTON.

The Coming Fight on the Vetoes of Pensions.

CONSUL-GENERAL GREEN'S GROSSNESS

The California Delegation Formally Invite Cleveland to the Coming Grand Army Encampment—Notes.

Associated Press Dispatches to The Times.

WASHINGTON, July 8.—Chairman Matson, of the Invalid Pensions Committee, is determined to insist upon a reference of all vetoed pension bills to that committee, and when the House meets to-morrow, will again make a motion to refer each case. The Democratic leaders are resolved to stay here for the summer, if necessary, as one of them put it, before abandoning their position in the matter.

Republicans who have been active in efforts to secure immediate action on the vetoed bills, have proposed a compromise, which will probably be accepted. Under its terms, two hours will be allowed for debate on such one of the bills as may be selected, and at the expiration of that time the ayes and noes shall be taken, the result of which is to be regarded as applying to all the vetoes.

GREEN'S GROSSNESS.

How Cleveland's Consul Established a Harem in Japan.

SAN FRANCISCO, July 8.—The Call's Washington special, quoting from the Critic, says: "The Senate did not refuse to confirm the nomination of Warren Green to be Consul General at Yokohama solely because of his freaks at Pokoi. When the nomination was taken up by the Committee on Commerce, its members were informed that Green, soon after arriving at Japan, established a harem after the manner of native dignitaries of the East. The American families at Yokohama felt themselves scandalized by this conduct of their Consul General, and they forwarded to the Senate specific allegations as above outlined, and protested against his confirmation. It is said that the reading of the charges in the committee room caused several of the senatorial Solons to squirm and others to blush. The committee then unanimously reported against the confirmation, and Greathouse was appointed and confirmed."

NATIONAL NOTES.

Cleveland Invited to California—A Congressman's Death.

WASHINGTON, Thursday, July 8.—Senator Stanford received from San Francisco yesterday, to be delivered to the President, an invitation from the Grand Army of the Republic of California to attend the National Encampment. The invitation is the most elaborate and beautiful device of that kind ever seen in this country. The message is engraved upon a plate of solid gold, decorated with a Grand Army badge and other patriotic emblems. It is superbly wrought, and embedded in a handsome satin-lined case.

The California delegation, headed by Senator Stanford, waited on the President to-day and presented the invitation.

Mr. Stanford in a few fitting words assured the President that all the people of California joined heartily in the invitation, and that they would be delighted to welcome him should he accept it. The President returned his thanks in the warmest terms. "You people are so big hearted," he said, "that I am sure I would greatly enjoy a visit to the Pacific Coast, but I do not see how I can find time. This superb and beautiful invitation will be none the less prized even though I may not accept it. It don't look now as though I was going to get Congress off my hands in time."

"I guess," replied Governor Stanford, "enough of us had better go home to leave it without a quorum."

"Perhaps that would be the surest way," said the President.

Twenty other persons were in the reception room waiting to see the President, and, after a brief conversation, the Californians withdrew. The beautiful and unique invitation is greatly admired at the White House.

DEATH OF CONGRESSMAN COLE.

Representative William H. Cole, of the Third Maryland District, died this morning, at his residence in this city. He had been a sufferer from Bright's disease for several years past, and his demise was not entirely unexpected.

SILVER.

British Merchants in Favor of Its Remonetization.

NEW YORK, July 8.—The Sun's special London dispatch says: An important meeting of the British and Colonial Chambers of Commerce was held to day, at which there was an animated discussion of the silver question, and its bearing upon the commerce of India, Australia and Great Britain.

Crump, of the London Times, denounced the agitation of the silver question as the work of the silver miners of Nevada and their allies, the Washington ring.

Moreton Frewen attacked Crump in a strong speech in behalf of the farmers in the West and the planters in Southern America, and a resolution was passed by a vote of 28 to 15, amid great excitement, declaring that the remonetization of silver would relieve the depression under which trade is now stagnating.

The meeting is regarded as highly important, and its influence upon the coming silver demonstration in Lancashire must necessarily be very strong.

The Limits of the Press.

NEW YORK, July 8.—Editor Scheritsech, of the Volks-Z itung, against whom it is thought the Grand Jury will find an indictment based on his editorial denunciatory of the jurors who convicted the Theiss boycotters, called upon the District Attorney to-day in reference to the matter. Martine told him that the subject was under consideration. Subsequently Scheritsech stated that in the event of his being indicted he would likely secure the services of Gen Butler to defend him. "The issue will be," said he, "one as to what the limits of the press are. The jurors, in the articles complained of, were referred to in their capacity of public officials after the termination of their case, and their private character was not brought into question."

A Utah Lynching.

SALT LAKE, U. T., July 8.—Joseph S. Fisher, a miner from Copperopolis, mining at Silver City, U. T., shot and killed a miner named James Connor at Eureka, U. T., on Tuesday in a quarrel over a game of cards. Fisher was arrested and put in the Eureka jail. In the evening a party of infuriated citizens took him from jail and lynched him.

ALLEN'S ABSENCE.

Another Small Embezzler Gets out of Town.

R. M. Allen, late time-keeper for the Los Angeles City Water Company, levanted on Thursday, riding one of the company's horses; and now Sheriff Gard is warming up the wires in electric pursuit. Allen turns out to be an embezzler, and is wanted here bad. The amount of his peculations cannot be exactly determined at present, but is estimated at from $100 to $300, besides the horse, which was probably worth $125 with its trappings. The horse is described as a fine, spirited animal, black, with two white feet and spot in forehead, with an American saddle and Spanish bridle. Allen is an American, aged 25; height 5 feet 7 inches, weight about 140 pounds, light complexion, light hair cut short, blue eyes, well educated, fine penman, gentlemanly appearance, well dressed, new suit of dark clothes, very shrewd. He may change clothing, etc. Had some money. Will probably lay off in some out-of-the-way place for a time. Will try to get out of the country as soon as possible. If trace of horse can be found, it may lead to the whereabouts of Allen. Sheriff Gard has the warrant for Allen on a charge of embezzlement, and will pay $30 reward for his arrest.

A New Legal Partnership.

Anderson, Fitzgerald & Anderson is the designation of a newly-established law firm of this city, the members being ex-Judge J. A. Anderson, ex-Judge W. F. Fitzgerald and J. A. Anderson, Jr.

Judge J. A. Anderson deservedly enjoys the reputation of being a lawyer of great ability. He has conducted to a successful conclusion within the past several years to establish cases of great magnitude and importance than any lawyer on this coast outside of San Francisco. He is now, and notwithstanding his removal to this city, will continue to be, the regular advising attorney of several of the wealthiest corporations and private citizens of Arizona. As a lawyer and gentleman he is the peer of the ablest and best.

Judge Fitzgerald has been long enough in practice in Los Angeles to win a first place at the bar. He was formerly one of the Supreme Judges of Arizona, and has an enviable reputation as a lawyer and public man.

Mr. Anderson, Jr., has had unusual experience for one of his years and bids fair to rival at no distant day the great ability of his father.

Anderson, Fitzgerald & Anderson will establish their office in "Lawyers' Block," Temple street, having taken a suite of five rooms on the east side of the building.

Sold at Two.

The beautiful Hawkins ranch at Iron Sulphur Springs has been sold twice this week by Haslip & Sons, the first time for $16 000, and the second time for $18 000. The buyers still come. The happy possessor now is W. A. Nimocks, a capitalist of Detroit, Mich.

Rumor of an Extra Session of the Legislature

TO PASS NEEDED IRRIGATION LAWS.

San Francisco's Chinatown has a Narrow Escape—A Murderer Shares his Victim's Fate—Coast Notes.

Associated Press Dispatches to The Times.

SAN FRANCISCO, July 8.—The Post this evening says: A prominent politician, who has had the reputation of being in the confidence of Gov. Stoneman ever since the beginning of his administration in January, 1883, is thoroughly impressed with the notion that the Governor intends to again convene the Legislature in extra session, this time on the irrigation question.

"The reason that the Governor has for his course is a good one," said the gentleman. "We know now that an irrigation scheme can be carried through the two Houses, and that the Governor will sign it. It was demonstrated by the vote at the last session that if we got another chance to upset the rule laid down by the Supreme Court that we cannot fail. The term of the present Legislature will not expire until the first Monday of January next, and there is no use of taking chances upon what a new Legislature may do."

SAN FRANCISCO.

Neil, the Slayer of Young Reid, Murdered in a Brawl.

SAN FRANCISCO, July 8.—Fred Neil, who is out on bonds, pending trial before Judge Murphy for the murder of Charles Reid, a cripple, in the latter part of 1885, was arrested last night for threatening the life of John Peters, keeper of the Albion saloon on Dupont street, near Sutter. He was released on bail this morning. This afternoon in the same saloon he was shot and wounded five times by Robert Perry, another disreputable character. The shooting was the result of a quarrel about a woman. Perry was arrested. Neil died at 8 o'clock this evening.

THE JURY MANIPULATORS.

Creighton and Northey, charged with bribing jurors in the case of Mrs. Wright versus the Geary Street Railroad, came up for trial before Judge Freer, of Butte county, to-day, but owing to the absence of Hall McAllister, leading counsel for the defense, the Judge granted a continuance until Monday next.

SHORTER HOURS ON HORSE CARS.

All the horse car lines of the city have reduced the hours of labor of their employés from thirteen to twelve hours. The new rule went into effect this morning.

ANOTHER BIG FRUIT SCHEME.

Articles of incorporation of the Western Ripe Fruit Carrier have been filed in the County Clerk's office. The object is to purchase, deal in and transport fruit, and manufacture and sell fruit boxes. The capital is $150,000, all of which has been subscribed by the following directors: Geo Hearst, Evan J. Coleman, Chas. N. Felton, R. F. Morrow and Frank Z Maguire.

THE PIONEERS' ELECTION.

The election of officers of the Society of California Pioneers, completed at 2 o'clock this morning, resulted as follows: President, Gustave Reis; Vice Presidents, Joseph O. Tucker, of Alameda; Thomas Knipe, of San Francisco; George F. Hooper, of Sonoma; Walter VanDyke, of Los Angeles; Treasurer, Howard Havens; Marshal, A. P. Dennison; Directors, George D. Nagle, Louis Sloss, J. F. Edward, ——— Kruse, Peter Dean, Arthur M. Ebbutte, John Nightingale, Harry W. Taylor, Nathaniel Holland, Edward D. Wheeler.

EX-JUDGE CLOUGH'S CASE ENDED.

In the case of Judge F. M. Clough against Judge Walter H. Levy, Judge Tooby this morning denied the motion for a new trial.

COAST FIRES.

Narrow Escape of 'Frisco's Chinatown—Other Blazes.

SAN FRANCISCO, July 8.—About 8 o'clock this evening fire was discovered in a building occupied as a Chinese tenement house, situated on an alley bounded by Jackson, Pacific, Dupont and Stockton streets, and belonging to the estate of the late John Sullivan. The flames gained rapid headway and at one time the destruction of the Chinese quarter seemed imminent. It was found necessary to turn in a general alarm, and by the united efforts of almost the entire fire department the fire was got under control. The damage is estimated at about $8000; insurance unknown.

AT GUERNEVILLE.

SANTA ROSA, July 8.—The town of Guernville was again visited by a disastrous fire last night. The fire broke out in the kitchen of the St. Charles Hotel, and completely consumed that building. The store of J. H. French, the butcher shop of B. Bell and the dwelling house of Dr. J. E. Barnes were also destroyed, together with fifty cords of pine wood belonging to Starrett & Gliddon. The loss is estimated at $12,000; insurance, $7000. The origin of the fire is unknown. This is the fifth disastrous fire that has visited this town.

GRAIN BURNED.

SAN LUIS OBISPO, Cal., July 8.—A fire to day on the ranch of E. W. Steele, set by sparks from a threshing engine, burned over $3000 worth of grain.

A BLAZE AT SANTA CRUZ.

SANTA CRUZ, Cal., July 8.—Fire, last night, destroyed the houses of J. Ricanso and M. Joseph on Green street. Loss about $2500; partially covered by insurance.

Cheering News from Arizona.

WILCOX, A. T., July 8.—General Miles, accompanied by L. Q. C. Lamar, Secretary of the Interior, and the special agent for that department, left Fort Apache this morning for Albuquerque, where arrangements will be completed to send ten of the principal Chiricahua Indians to Washington, under charge of Capt. Dorst, to have a talk over the situation. The prospects for permanent peace in this Territory are most favorable.

California Fruit in Chicago.

SAN FRANCISCO, July 8.—At Chicago yesterday California fruit sold as follows: Apricots, $1 65 and $1 75. On account of hot weather peaches have been arriving in bad order, while figs which have been shipped are absolutely worthless. Apricots, plums and peaches are rising in price daily, and are proving a profitable venture.

The Inyo Democracy.

INDEPENDENCE, Cal., July 8.—At a meeting of the Democratic Central Committee, held here to-day, John W. P. Laird and Frank Fitzgerald were elected delegates to the State Convention. The delegates were instructed to cast the vote of Inyo county for Hon. P. Reddy for Governor.

Electro-Magnetism, the New Means of Cure.

Dr. E. Robbins's Electro-Magnetic Institute, corner First and Spring streets, entrance on First street, is now fitted up, at considerable expense, with everything that is necessary to cure chronic and so-called incurable diseases, by the finest electrical apparatuses in the world. Turkish and Russian baths; also electric sulphur baths. Dr. Robbins has had several years' experience in the Australian colonies, San Francisco, Salt Lake City, Denver and three years in Los Angeles, and hundreds of leading citizens can testify to the wonderful effects of electricity in curing cases of chronic diseases when all else had failed, and therefore all persons suffering should try this new remedy before abandoning all hope. After every treatment the patients are treated with the Massage treatment, by persons of their own sex. The Doctor diagnoses disease without explanation from the patient, free of charge. His office hours are 8 till 12, 1 to 6.

FRIDAY, JULY 9, 1886.

A National Reproach.

The dalliance of Congress and the administration with those two political scandals, the Payne Senatorial corruption and the Pan-Electric affair, is exciting the contempt of the country.

Commenting on the Payne case, the Kansas City Journal says:

"There are very few persons who know anything about the election of Payne to the Senate, who do not believe that corruption was employed. The facts were brought to the attention of the United States Senate, and that body concluded not to investigate a distinguished member of its own body. Certain Republican Senators of distinguished reputations were equally responsible with the Democrats for the failure. Additional criminal evidence has been discovered, and the Senate is again requested to investigate. There is no valid reason for the refusal to investigate. The position taken by Senators that they will not suffer the degradation connected with proceedings against Senator Payne is not tenable. There should be no rule of dignity tolerated which can be used to protect corruption in high places. The higher the official the greater the crime."

The Journal further suggests that if Senators can buy their way into Congress, and then hide their crime against society behind the dignity of the Senate, there will soon be no limit to political rascality in lower places. There is no rule in law or morals which can justify jailing a common malefactor and allowing an influential rascal to go free and also continue to enjoy the fruits of his methods. But the movement is not so much against Senator Payne as it is against the system which was used for his benefit. The position of Senator is in many respects the most honorable in the United States. It is hardly second to the Presidency. In fact several terms in the Senate is preferable to one term as President to men of real ability. But the Senate will soon cease to be an honorable body if it becomes settled that seats can be purchased like so much merchandise.

The same reluctance manifested by the Senate for fear of compromising its dignity is apparent in President Cleveland, who seems afraid of compromising his administration by dropping Garland. Those who have read the full and unequivocal report presented by the Republican members of the Congressional investigating committee cannot doubt that Garland is sorely besmirched

The New York Sun has been supporting President Cleveland, but it refuses to allow politics to influence its judgment in regard to the Pan-Electric scandal. It claims sufficient grounds for impeachment against Garland, and speaking of the Republican report, says;

"What a story of greed, dishonor and shame! Not since the time when the evil hordes that surrounded Gen. Grant at Washington were turning to dishonest profit the opportunities of public office, has there been so scandalous a perversion and prostitution of executive power in any of the departments. With studied moderation of language, without a word of invective or a sentence of argument, by a logical marshaling of the established facts, presented in their true relations with the lucidity and conciseness of a judicial charge, this masterly report proceeds step by step to the unwritten conclusion which no candid person that reads it can escape."

WE are in receipt of a communication relative to the recent Fourth of July oration of Frank M. Pixley in San Francisco, which substantially reiterates the views expressed on that subject by the TIMES yesterday. Our correspondent seems to have been stirred up by the non-argumentative, but flamboyant attack on Pixley, which appeared in the Herald yesterday morning. Instituting a comparison, (alas, that comparisons are odious!) our correspondent proceeds to say: "In another city in our State a different selection was made, and the orator (he will esteem this the highest compliment) was everything that Pixley is not, and his address as characteristic of him as the San Francisco orator's of Pixley. Yet, with a characteristic lack of courtesy, this last orator proceeds to beslime his esteemed contemporary. A writer whose use of words is so ridiculous as to be a source of constant mirth; whose figures of rhetoric are more than worthy of Sir Boyle Roche; whose syntax is illustrated by wearisome repetitions of 'says I,' 'says he,' in a written address; who assails Pixley's lapses in grammar (at the same time committing himself by referring to the prosody of a writer of prose)—is manifestly an incompetent critic."

We fear that our correspondent has "references to allusions," and consequently we choke him off without a full hearing. When it comes to throwing clear-cut, unequivocal language, Pixley is quite able to take care of himself. Let Pixley and the Pope fight it out.

A CONVENTION of deaf-mutes and their instructors is to be held at Berkeley on the 16th inst. Of all the conventions of the times this will be the strangest. The chairman will not have to call anybody to order, and the proceedings are sure to be decorous, and perhaps dextrous.

DR. V. C. VAUGN, of Ann Arbor, Mich., in examining a specimen of the ice-cream which recently poisoned a number of persons at Newton, has made the discovery that tyrotoxicon, the active element in putrescent cheese, which he discovered some time since, was also present in the ice-cream, and was the cause of the sickness. This proved that tyrotoxicon is due to the decomposition of milk, and may be developed in any milk which is kept in an impure atmosphere or unclean vessels. The germ seems to multiply very rapidly, and a small amount of tainted milk will poison a whole can. It is Dr. Vaugn's theory that tyrotoxicon has much to do with cholera infantum, the symptoms of which are similar to the symptoms of cheese poisoning.

FLORIDA orange growers must now feel the force of Josh Billings's remark that "when a man gits to goin' down hill everything seems to be specially greased for the occasion." A correspondent of the Boston Transcript, writing from St. Augustine, June 20th, says:

"There can now be no doubt that the orange-growing industry in Florida has received another serious blow in consequence of the severe drought which has prevailed for the last six weeks, and to this is added still another source of uneasiness in the appearance of a new insect enemy, which has awakened much apprehension in the minds of grove-owners. This insect makes its attack upon the leaves of the orange tree, and, by destroying the leaves, can hardly fail to have a disastrous effect upon the young fruit. The effects of the drought are more manifest. Here, in the northern part of the State, trees which had apparently recovered from the freeze and put forth an abundance of leaves and blossoms are withered and falling, and the trees are, to all appearance, beyond hope of recuperation."

Munchausen Before De Lesseps.

In the year 1786, just a century ago, there was published in London a book, which has since become famous, entitled, "The Travels and Surprising Adventures of the Baron Munchausen." In it the mendacious Baron tells how, with his wonderful chariot, he drove across the Isthmus of Darien "with the greatest impetuosity repeatedly from shore to shore, in the same track, tearing an the rocks and earth thereby, and forming a tolerable bed for the water. Gog and Magog next advanced at the head of a million of people from the realms of North and South America, and from Europe, and with infinite labor cleared away the earth, etc., that I had plowed up with my chariot. I then again drove my chariot, making the canal wider and deeper, and ordered Gog and Magog to repeat their labor as before. The canal being a quarter of a mile broad, and three hundred yards in depth, I thought it sufficient, and immediately let in the waters of the sea. I did imagine that, from the rotatory motion of the earth on its axis from west to east, the sea would be higher on the eastern than the western coast, and that on the uniting of the two seas there would be a strong current from the east, and it happened just as I expected. The sea came in with tremendous magnificence, and enlarged the bounds of the canal, so as to make a passage of some miles broad from ocean to ocean, and make an island of South America. Several sail of trading vessels and men-of-war sailed through this new channel to the South Seas, China, etc., and saluted me with all their cannon as they passed."

In the next chapter the Baron tells how he dug a canal across the isthmus of Suez. As this book was published long before the Count De Lesseps was born, it will be at once seen that, as between these two, the Baron Munchausen is entitled to all the honors of first conceiving the idea of the two canals, one of which De Lesseps has constructed, and the other of which, according to the reports now coming thick and fast from Panama, will require as many men as Munchausen declares he employed, before the big ditch can be finished. Unfortunately for De Lesseps and his scheme, the Baron appears to have kept no expense or mortality account, and makes no mention as to whether there were any other contractors than Gog or Magog, or whether any of them swindled him or not. If those figures were in existence they would undoubtedly prove very interesting to De Lesseps and the French Government just now, when so many dismal tales are sent up from the isthmus, and when, according to one pessimistic statement, there is the most wasteful extravagance, mismanagement and jobbery by contractors engaged in building the canal, which threaten to prolong the work for the balance of this century. But there is one important point in Munchausen's story that makes for De Lesseps. The great romancer finished his two ideal canals on paper only, but the practical engineer has finished one real canal and got some ways ahead on the other. The truths on the side of De Lesseps are stranger that Munchausen's fictions.

A Big Irrigation Project.

[Oroville Register.]

There is a proposition on foot to dig a large ditch, capable of holding 100,000 inches of water, from Feather river, and bring this water along the foothills east of Oroville. The body of land lying east of the C. N. R. R. suitable for farming and fruit-growing is about 30,000 acres. All of this could be placed under irrigation by the new ditch. It is estimated by those who are examining this plan that Feather river, up to the middle of July, contains 300 000 inches of water, so that the 100,000 inches diverted for irrigating purposes would not injure those living along the river. If this scheme is carried out it will be a big thing for Eastern Butte, and will double its population each year for the next five seasons. The amount of fruit, berries, vegetables, etc., that could be grown on the land we speak of, in case the ditch is brought in, would largely increase the shipments over the C. N. R. R., and would build up thriving communities between here and Monro Station.

Some More "Reform."

Mr. Coleman, who is at the head of the Tax Department t of New York City, says that the aqueduct which is now building has fallen into the hands of a Democratic gang who intend to use it for political purposes. Contracts are not given to the lowest responsible bidder, and it has been so managed that "the chairman of the Democratic State Committee has become the chief contractor, and associated with friends and relatives of other prominent politicians in the city and county until there has become concentrated around the contracting pool the strongest political influence in the State." The contractors, he asserts, favored the scheme of lining the entire aqueduct for fifteen miles with a brick wall, but as the Mayor and Comptroller opposed the plan it became necessary to overcome their opposition by increasing the number of Commissioners, as was done last month. The combination, it is said, is in the interest of Governor Hill.

Hill Arp and Pretty Cigarette Makers.

[Atlanta Constitution.]

"Over in North Carolina I saw the prettiest sight in the world. I went into a great factory and beheld spread out before me like a panorama an immense hall occupied by 700 pretty girls. They were making cigarettes. As they deftly rolled them between their fingers they sang one of the hymns so often used by Moody and Sankey in their religious exercises. I don't think I ever heard vocal music half so sweet. It almost reconciled me to the fact that the tobacco in the cigarettes is steeped in New England rum. The cheeks of those girls were like roses, indicating health and high spirits. I tell you, my friends, it was a sight to be remembered."

A Cause for Anxiety.

[Philadelphia Call.]

"Mamma, you read the other day that a tiger died of eating sawdust!"

"Yes, dear. He swallowed it with his food."

"Mamma, is there any likelihood of my doll dying? She's gone and eaten herself stuck full of newdust."

Gave His Life for his Country—By Proxy.

[Chicago Mail.]

When the war broke out Grover Cleveland was an able-bodied, vigorous man. The call of his country came to him in the shape of a notice that he had been drafted into the army. Being adverse to endangering his precious life, he hired a substitute. The substitute was killed at the battle of Gettysburg, and it is said that during the President's recent visit to that famous battlefield, it was an affecting sight to see him standing on the spot where he had fallen in the shock of battle and given up his life for his country—by proxy. It is strange that a man who thus suffered and died for his country should have so little sympathy for those comrades in-arms, who, having lost their health in the service, are now applicants for pensions. Bills that have passed both branches of Congress, presumably after careful examination by the Pension Committee of both, are vetoed by the man whose substitute gave up his life for his country, under the pretext that he cannot sit idly by and see the treasury of his country robbed, even in the name of patriotism. With such a guardian of its interests the country is hardly in need of a Congress, and it will not be surprising if Grover, some time, sends in a message saying so.

Stampeded by a Mule.

[Winnemucca Silver State.]

Captain Kyle disposed of a band of over 400 head of horses to an Idaho man, and last night he arrived here with the animals from his ranch in the southern part of the county. As they were about to corrol them, a mule, with that "cussedness" for which the breed is noted, stampeded the horses, and the drivers by following them all night managed to get them all back but about forty head. The boys don't say what disposition they made of the mule.

He Pitied the Dog.

"See her kiss that ugly dog," said one old gentleman to a friend in a horse car in a loud whisper, calling attention to a woman who was lavish with her endearments of a pet poodle. She overheard the comment, and glowering upon the unfortunate man, said in vinegary accents:

"It won't hurt me, if I do."

"Oh, I beg your pardon, madam, but my sympathy was with the dog."

What Came Ye Out for to See?

As the committee appointed to investigate the phenomenal exhibitions of "Will Force, or the Power of Mind Over Matter," and of the "Gift of Healing," as announced by Dr. A. P. Truesdell through the press of this city, on May 20th, and illustrated daily during the past three weeks at the Grand Opera House Hall, we submit, briefly, the following simple statement of facts, which have come under our immediate observation, and for the truth of which we assuredly testify in behalf of the public interest, but more especially for the benefit of the hopeless chronic sick.

We have ourselves witnessed the fulfillment of the promises made to the public and the sick by Dr. Truesdell in regard to the above referred to "Mysteries of Occult Force." We have again and again—in fact daily—witnessed the truth of the Doctor's marvelous claims for the "Inner Force of Man," by the even more marvelous proofs of the immediate removal of pain, paralysis, impotency, and scores of cases of divers diseases, both with and without the touch of hand—many being relieved of pain by merely being present at the hall while others were being operated upon. Come and see for yourselves.

NEIGHBORHOOD NEWS.

SIERRA MADRE.

A $30,000 HOTEL AND A $3000 LIBRARY—THE BOOM.

Correspondence of the Times.]

SIERRA MADRE, July 8.—Mr. Hosmer has completed the subdivision of his own and Mr. Brainard's places. Three avenues have been laid out, one north and south between the property of Messrs. Brainard and Hart, named Hermosa, and two avenues running east and west from Baldwin to Hermosa avenues, named Esperanza and Bonita. Mr. Willard, of Pasadena, did the surveying. Mr. Willard is greatly pleased with the prospects of this place, and has bought a lot in Hosmer's subdivision where a $2000 cottage will soon be built.

The livery stable now seems to be a fact and will be commenced in a few days.

N. C. Carter has returned from a short visit East.

Rev. M. L. Gordon, pastor of the Congregational church here, starts East, with his family, this week, for a three month's visit to his old home in Massachusetts. The best wishes of his friends here go with him.

Out of six thousand orange trees which W. A. Spalding has just had budded, only two of that number failed to connect. Geo. Wallace, of Alhambra, did the budding. This speaks well for the budder, the good condition of the stock, and the fertility of the soil.

Mr. Steinberg, of this place, has a Washington Navel bud one year old in June budded into a stock probably five or six years old, and it has now thirty-five oranges about the size of hens' eggs; they have evidently come to stay. That is considerable precocious previousness—all owing to the g. o. of C.

Four different parties have gone up the Wilson trail from Sierra Madre the past week, with full camping outfits. It is becoming a very popular summer resort.

P. T. Reed and a company of other bold hunters, will take their regular hunting trip in the Sierra Madres next week.

Mr. Wilkinson, an architect from England, and relative of Dr. Gresham, is to settle here soon.

Sierra Madre claims to have some of the most public spirited and generous women to be found anywhere. To Miss F. H. Hawks, more than to any other, is due the credit of the building of the Episcopal church. She gave liberally of time, money and land for this object. The same lady made the first substantial move towards the erection of the public library, but her offer has since been gracefully withdrawn in favor of another. And now comes forward Mrs. Ross, a resident of this town, and with her own capital will build a twenty thousand dollar hotel [instead of ten thousand, as reported in my last] with spacious and beautifully laid out grounds. The same lady gives one thousand dollars and a generous sized building site for the public library, which will be named the Sierra Madre Library, erected to the memory of Robert E. Ross. Neither of these projects is to have a wind foundation and newspaper superstructure, but good hard coin of the United States is in sight to push them to completion at once. All this is but the first wave of a genuine and substantial boom, which in the next twelve months will dot all the beautiful hillside of Sierra Madre all over with residences, and business houses, too.

At a meeting of ladies and gentlemen held at the school house on Wednesday evening the greatest enthusiasm prevailed when the announcement was made by Mr. Wilson (Treasurer of the Library fund), that Mrs. Ross had made out and deposited a check of two thousand dollars instead of one thousand for the Library. An appeal was then made to those who had subscribed to increase their subscriptions and raise the whole amount to three thousand dollars. This appeal was responded to by nearly every one present, and the amount greatly increased. A committee of five ladies and gentlemen was appointed to convey to Mrs. Ross the heartfelt thanks of the community for her generosity. An executive committee of three was appointed to get the Library Association in practical running order. A building committee was chosen to get plans for a building whose architectural beauty will make all other places green with envy. The meeting then adjourned to the call of the executive committee.

ONTARIO.

IMPROMPTU CELEBRATION—LAND SALES.

Correspondence of the TIMES.

ONTARIO, July 7.—No announcement was made of any celebration of the national holiday here and no movement was made to that end until late on Saturday afternoon. Shortly before the evening shadows began to fall, however, a few people bestirred themselves, a considerable sum of money was raised, a quantity of fireworks purchased and the sky was illuminated in thoroughly orthodox fashion. Considering the very limited time allowed for preparation, the display was exceedingly fine and would have done credit to a much larger and older place. What with bonfires, rockets, Roman candles, fire-wheels, torpedoes and "vich," the pyrotechnic exhibition was both lond and lurid.

Land sales continue active, and homeseekers of the very best class still find their way here in large numbers, notwithstanding that we are nearing the middle of July. Since my report of a few days since, the land company have sold 30 acres on San Antonio avenue to Mrs. Murdock; 20 acres on Sixth street, to John Goodwin of Riverside; ten acres on Euclid avenue, to L. E. Mosher of Los Angeles; and a 2½ acre villa lot, to Miss Teite.

Mrs. Murdock has let the contract for breaking and preparing her ground for planting, and is having the plans prepared for the immediate erection of a neat, substantial and cosy house for herself and daughter. Mr. Goodwin, of Riverside, has already moved over and gone into possession. And Mr. Mosher, one of your prominent and most popular citizens, has added ten acres on the main avenue to his previous purchases, because land is cheap and will very speedily double in price.

Recent visitors to Ontario who had not seen the place for three or four months are amazed at the rapid progress being made. The model colony is making no noise, but is forging steadily ahead. Its inherent advantages are such as insure one of the very finest settlements in this attractive land.

As the passenger trains approach the station—and there are ten of them per day—people flock to the platform and windows to catch a glimpse of Euclid avenue, unfolding itself to the mountains seven miles away. It is safe to say that passing strangers will carry the pleasant vision in their mind's eye as long as they live.

The Ontario Hotel was illuminated with Chinese lanterns on Saturday evening, and presented a pretty picture from the east and south streets.

ROSEDALE.

THE SUBURBAN BOOM—THE ELECTRIC RAILWAY TRACK.

Correspondence of the TIMES.]

ROSEDALE, July 7.—The boom in real estate sales continues all through this section of the city suburbs. So many places have been recently sold and so many new tracts divided up and put upon the market that it has been almost impossible to keep up with the changes occurring.

The track of the electric railway on Pico street has been laid from the corner of Main street nearly to Figueroa, and is pushing out in our direction day by day. Rumor has it that it is striking for Santa Monica. Sooner or later that will probably be the terminus. The building of this road is helping forward the sale of the company's lots and those of other tracts in the vicinity.

The residents on Washington street and Vermont avenue made an earnest effort to raise the $6000 required to secure the immediate extension of the City street car line through these streets, but, though they subscribed generously, they failed to secure the full amount. Ultimately the enterprise must be carried through in this or some other form.

The public spirit of our citizens has been called out in an effort to raise money by private subscription to buy a bell for the schoolhouse and to ornament the grounds of the school premises. The sum of $126 has been raised, and will be soon expended.

At the last school election of the district R. A. Hoyt was elected trustee for three years, and Rev. L. D. Chapin for two years. Mr. Riley and Miss Hobbs, the teachers of last year, who gave universal satisfaction, have been re-appointed. The recent school census showed a large increase in the number of resident children, almost sufficient to entitle us to an additional teacher. Steps must soon be taken for the enlargement of our school house.

On the afternoon of the Fourth a fire broke out in the tank house of M. F. Carbis, on Westchester street. Though neighbors immediately came to the rescue nothing could be done to save the building. Mr. Carbis is on a business tour at the East.

OBSERVER.

FINANCE AND TRADE.

OFFICE OF THE TIMES,
LOS ANGELES, Thursday, July 8.

The sudden rise in Wheat at Chicago yesterday was short-lived, and the price fell 4½ cents to-day. In San Francisco to-day the market was steady and slightly higher. Trading in Wheat in this city is quiet and prices remain unchanged.

That mining in California is not quite played out is instanced from the fact that the Idaho Mining Company, of Grass Valley, has just paid its two hundredth dividend. The mine has produced about $8,000,000 since the start. The first dividend was paid in January, 1869. To date it has paid its half-a-dozen stockholders over $3,750,000 in dividends, or over $1,900 per share on its $100 shares of capital stock of the par value of $100 each.

The last tabulated statements of the National Banks are for June 3. The number reporting is 3808. These banks are to be found in every State in the Union, and in every Territory except Alaska and Indian. There are seventeen in California. The resources of the 2808 banks on the date named were $3,474,059,119. This amount includes $157,408,316 in specie and $79,644,780 in United States notes. The par value of the United States bonds held to secure circulation was $279,314,410 and the amount of notes issued against the same was $250,357,684. The amount to the credit of individual depositors was $1,146,118,-800. The combined capital was $588,989,-391. To the credit of this capital, after paying good dividends for years, there stands charged a surplus fund of $153,-572,934, besides $67,653,595 of undivided profits.

The shipments of Wheat from India from January 1st to June 12th, were 17,-564,000 bushels. The crop year in India begins April 1. The crop this year is said to be 16,000,000 bushels less than in 1884-85, and the amount for shipment during the year 1886-87 is estimated at 25,000,000 bushels.

Stocks and Bonds.

By Telegraph to The Times.

NEW YORK, July 8.—Government bonds dull, unchanged.

C. P. Huntington has renewed his proposition to the Pacific Mail Company to the effect that the company receive a subsidy of $85,000 per month after the first three months, and a lower rate during that period. Mr. Huntington said that he did not know whether the Pacific Mail Company could accept this proposition or not. The President of the Pacific Mail, however, said the situation was unchanged. The news from the Northwestern wheat fields was of a most favorable character, but the market was wholly influenced by manipulation.

Two Friends Meet.

"Hello! Old fellow! What have you been doing to yourself? You look like a subject for the undertaker," exclaimed the man on the right.

"I have been taking mercury and potash mixtures until they have nearly ruined me," squeaked the old man on crutches.

"And I," said the other, "have been taking the genuine Swift's Specific, which has built me up from the first dose."

Swift's Specific

Is Nature's own remedy, made from roots gathered from the forests of Georgia. The method by which it is made was obtained by a half-breed from the Creek Indians, who inhabited a certain portion of Georgia, which was communicated to one of the early settlers, and thus the formula has been handed down to the present day. The demand has been increasing until a $100,000 laboratory is now necessary to supply the trade. A foreign demand has been created, and enlarged facilities will be necessary to meet it. This great

ORDER TO SHOW CAUSE.

WHEREAS, PATRICK MCHUGH (THE said deceased) was at the time of his death bound by a contract in writing to convey certain real estate to Louis Brown, and whereas Mary Ann McHugh, executrix of the Court, from the verified petition of said Louis Brown, on file herein, that he is entitled to a conveyance of the premises, in the said petition described, from the administrator, with the will annexed of the said estate, and that a hearing is applied for in said petition. It is therefore ordered by the said Court that all persons interested in the estate of the said deceased appear before the said Court on at 10 o'clock a. m. of that day, at the courtroom of said court, at the Courthouse in Los Angeles City (Department No. 1), to show cause why a decree should not be granted and made authorizing and directing the administrator with the will annexed of said estate to execute a conveyance to the petitioner of all the certain land described in his said petition. And as a notice of the hearing thereof it is further ordered that a copy of this order be published at least four successive weeks before such hearing in the Los Angeles "Daily Times," a newspaper printed and published in Los Angeles county, which is hereby designated for such publication.

Dated June 26, A. D. 1886.

BELL'S CONTEMPTS.

Oral Arguments in the Cases Heard Yesterday.

MAJOR HORACE ARGUES FOR HIMSELF

The Court, In Reserving Decision, Qualifies These Cases as Important to the Bench, Bar and Press.

Department Two of the Superior Court was filled moderately with spectators and a thin sprinkling of attorneys when the ex-parte proceedings of Horace Bell, petitioner for a writ of habeas corpus, were called up, yesterday at 10 o'clock, by Judge Brunson.

The petitioner was rather excited when opening his argument, but gradually cooled down, and throughout the whole proceedings showed a self-command which was commendable, considering that he appeared for himself, had no counsel at his elbow, and went through the whole matters that have caused him so much trouble and unpleasantness heretofore. The District Attorney alone represented the people, and the entire absence of all the people who have seemed to be so objectionable to the Major may have had the remarkably soothing effect upon him, mentioned above.

The Major, in opening argument in case No. 1, stated that he came to argue the application in his own behalf with great hesitation and trepidation, not because he thought himself incompetent, but because he was conscious of entertaining considerable feeling in the matter. Mr. Williams was unable to attend. Major Bell took the ground that no public office had been charged in the affidavit which caused the libel proceeding in Department No. 1, no statutory contempt having been set forth, and that the commitment was insufficient. No contempt had been committed, and none had been intended. The courts had no jurisdiction; the statutes guarantee a defendant a trial, and contempt is not a different offense from any other. By not going into the facts of the alleged offense, the court lost its jurisdiction. The petitioner here took up his printed brief, and read G. Wiley Wells's affidavit charging Bell with contempt in Department No. 1. He added: "Wells was filled with vindictive spite against me, and made a tool of the man who sat upon the bench because some articles in the Porcupine had reflected upon the judge. I was not angry, but the judge was; and Wells, with his spite, came and edged this weak little man who sits upon the bench."

Judge Branson requested the petitioner to abstain from personal remarks and confine himself to the subject matter.

Bell (resuming): "I can't help it. Were I to act for some other person, I would possibly use more vituperation. I have been made to appear as a criminal when I have the respect of every man who knows me. This is the position these two men have placed me in, and I shall show that it was through the vindictive spite of both of them. The publication of the infamous Gregory deposition in the Herald was the cause of all that has happened. It is the cause of my being here to-day; because I said that the prayerful Wells took it to the Herald and had it published with Baldwin's money. That was the mainspring of all the animosity that has been showered upon me. Up to that time I had been indifferent to the Perkins matter, but that infamous publication gave me a shock of virtuous indignation."

The petitioner here read from the brief the articles which Col. Wells embodied in his affidavit praying for proceedings in contempt, and discussed them as he went along.

"Impositions are oppressive and tyrannical. Had it not been for Judge Cheney's personal anger against me, he might have fined me $25; had it not been for his bad blood, a lecture, a reprimand, would have had sufficient effect. But when he came to impose upon me fines equal to two years in the most infamous jail of the United States, it was absolutely tyrannical, and, if we had an honest Legislature, they would impeach him for it. Judge Cheney knew that I am poor and could not pay $700, without beggaring my family; so I say, that, if upon no other grounds than these my discharge should be granted. I admit that the article in which the judge and District Attorney were referred to as Willard and George, was not dignified. I apologize for it. But did that article interfere with the causes then pending in the Superior Court? I hold that I have not interfered or sought to interfere unlawfully and intentionally with said court, or any proceedings therein. The affidavit is insufficient on its face and the court could not acquire jurisdiction." The petitioner here gave instances of what he thought might properly be called interfering, and read authorities.

"The fact of my being an attorney in this court is charged against me. Then any other newspaper man, not an attorney, could probably have said what I have and he would not have been guilty of libel or contempt. A man accused of contempt should be entitled to a jury trial, though the courts have otherwise held. The theory of a judge constituting himself the accuser, judge and jury, and the executioner, all in one, is played out. If the judge, or the other parties, had thought a public offense perpetrated, why didn't they go before a Justice of the Peace and make a complaint for libel? My motion to have the proceedings dismissed before Judge Cheney was timely and should have been granted because of the insufficiency of Wells's affidavit."

Adjourned to 2 p. m.

AFTERNOON SESSION.

Major Bell (resuming) reads the commitment sentencing him to five days' imprisonment and $400 to be paid at the rate of one day's imprisonment for each dollar. "Who ever heard of a lawyer working for a dollar a day? When Wells came into court with two pistols in his pockets and he called me a liar, did Judge Cheney commit him to jail when he fined him $50? No! Why? Because Cheney was mad at me. Couldn't he have given me time to find the money as well? He remanded me. This is a contrast proving that he was mad at me. I insist again that if I was guilty of any offense it was a libel, and I could have been tried for it." This concluded the argument of the case concerning the contemptuous publications. In the cases of his contempt in court by language, the Major thought that language used by an attorney in the heat of argument was not contempt of court, for if such were the case no trial could be had, especially where a judge bore a grudge to one of the attorneys, without his words being passible of being construed as contempt, especially if he were not allowed to explain what he meant. "The records show that Judge Cheney had placed himself in the hands of the Baldwin crowd."

Major Bell: "The previous contempts were imaginary ones, and I could not well help saying what I said before Judge Cheney in my argument. What I say today is no more contemptuous than what I said before Judge Cheney. Now, if you had been minded to-day, as Cheney was then, you might have picked out a half dozen contempts."

The Court: "I think not, Major."

Major Bell: "It is not contempt for a counsel to make use of a hasty expression, where no contempt was meant. It would be an unjust rule, especially in controversy with other counsel, or in discussion with the Court. The Court should accept the offer to make explanations, which I did to Judge Cheney. Don't take my newspaper reports as my guarantee for this fact; take my affidavit, to which I now swear, and which embodies Mr. Weed's shorthand notes. I was arguing that my publications had not interfered with the Court proceeding to his avocations. There was no contempt in that, nor any intention at that moment to commit contempt, but it was part of my argument to say it. Was that contempt, and worthy of a fine of $100? In the second case I asked why the Court had not held the writer and the publisher of the Gregory affidavit as guilty of contempt. Where is the contempt here? I asked, Why? Well, why not? It is not a statutory offense. It was my right to discuss it, and in discussion I asked why I should be brought up for contempt of court, and why should they have overlooked that? For this the vindictive judge, rotting his spite upon me, who had offended him, found me guilty because I said that such cringing writers are never brought up for contempt. It did not interfere with Judge Cheney because the case to which I referred was a cause which is pending in this department of the Superior Court. In the third place I stated that the Judge of Department One was the only person whom I ever had heard call the District Attorney George, and that never until after the Pomona affair. Was that a reason to send a man to jail for 100 days? I said that while speaking the article on Wills and Grenville, I had in my answering abused it, as the article was actually regarded as serious. I believe Judge Cheney took that mean to insert than anything else. I was sorry for that epistle, but that imposition of 100 days or $100 was too much; it was cruelty, it was tyranny."

Petitioner then read the origin and history of the power of courts in contempts, and stated authorities. The whole secret of Judge Cheney's animosity, the Major thought, was because of his publication (with strictures) of the Miles matter. He felt that he had done his duty throughout. He felt that he could have argued better but for the feeling he has in the matter, and concluded with a neat apology to the court if he at any time overstepped the bounds. The Major concluded at 4 p. m., having spoken exactly four hours.

The District Attorney then got up, consumed thirty minutes in reading authorities and analogous cases and made no argument. The Court took the matter under advisement, stating that the case was of great importance to the bench, bar and press.

Electric Motor Road

On Pico street. Cars will be running in sixty days. Twelve minutes from Postoffice. Street cars to Pico and Pearl streets, within one and a half blocks. Electric Motor Railway will pass the entire front of these lots. Elegant improvements; streets with planked sidewalks with ornamental trees to be planted the entire length on both sides. Four beautiful villa residences; masts with electric lights without charge. Distribution of lots 6th of November of this year, and all improvements made and possession given at that time. Immediately adjoining the City Centre Tract lots, recently sold to the leading business people of Los Angeles.

Williamson Tract—188 Lots

This offering of first-class lots for residences in the midst of the handsomest improvements in Los Angeles will be the last opportunity to acquire ten fully located lots at the owner's price per acre. Three hundred and ninety dollars is a nominal sum, and the payments are extended over one and a half years without interest. The location is within twelve minutes of the postoffice, with two lines of street cars (the Hellman line and the Electric Motor Railway) directly to the property.

They will be all elegantly finished inside, in Eastlake style, even to the kitchens. The houses will be 21x28, parlor and chamber, with sliding doors, dining-room, large hall, spacious kitchen, bath-room and porticoes.

There are no Narrow Streets and no side lots. Every street is 60 feet wide.

The masts for the electric lights are now being erected. These masts, being four in number on the City Center and this tract, will illumine every lot and residence with a flood of light; an ornament, a necessity and a safeguard.

The success of the homesteads of the Southern California Land Company is strictly owing to the low rate at which its properties are placed before the public, and the fact that it only offers first-class city locations. This Company points with just pride to the Childs Tract, Columbia Colony, Urmston Tract and the City Center Tract, the latter immediately adjoining the present lots.

A new feature of this beautiful property will be the planting of all the streets with large ornamental shade trees. A nursery of 4500 splendid trees of large size is already on the tract ready to be set out in the fall.

☞ Careful gardeners will be employed by the Company to take charge of them for one year. ☜

Four Handsome Villa Residences

TO BE ERECTED.

Planted Sidewalks, four feet wide, with substantial stringers, 2x6, will be placed on each side of every street.

Think of the location. Eleventh to Pico, and but two blocks from Pearl street.

The sale of this tract is on the homestead plan. The land is sold as an entirety, and delivered over to the subscribers with all the improvements of villa residences, planted sidewalks, electric lights, ornamental shade trees, etc., without further charge than the amount received in the aggregate from the subscribers, each one of whom has a vested right in the entire tract.

The meeting of the subscribers for the distribution of these lots is fixed for November 6, 1886. They agree to a mode of distribution (according to the Homestead Laws of 1862) on the same plan as that of the Childs tract, the Urmston tract and the City Center tract, all inaugurated by this firm.

The street railway on Pearl street, at the corner of Pico street, is within two blocks of the tract, and in sixty days Col. Rowland's electric motor road will be completed on Pico street past this entire property.

BRONCHITIS,

Acute Bronchitis is an inflammation of the mucous membrane of the bronchial tubes, and is one of the most common of the pulmonary diseases. It is a dangerous disease, as it prevents the oxygenation of the blood, and in many cases, particularly after it passes into the chronic stage, the substance of the lungs becomes severely involved, giving rise to what is very properly called Bronchial Consumption. In the acute form there is sense of tightness or pressure across the chest, with considerable wheezing, severe cough and expectoration. This is at first a white glairy mucous, which after a time becomes purulent. The patient in some cases is obliged to sit up in bed, the oppression across the chest is so great; the pain is intense and prostration rapidly sets in, and in fatal cases there will be muttering delirium, coma and death.

CHRONIC BRONCHITIS.

Chronic Bronchitis is also an inflammation of the mucous membrane of the bronchial tubes. When a cold settles on the lungs the disease either ends in bronchitis or pneumonia. If it ends in bronchitis it usually passes off as a cold on the chest, and still the patient does not feel entirely well. He feels tired and languid, and is incapable of taking his usual amount of exercise, and experiences a shortness of breath, with more or less warmth in the palms of his hands—soon after this a cough appears, accompanied by an expectoration of the mucous, followed by a hectic flush,

NEIGHBORHOOD NEWS.

SIERRA MADRE.

A $20,000 HOTEL AND A $3000 LIBRARY—THE BOOM.

Correspondence of the Times.]

SIERRA MADRE, July 8.—Mr. Hosmer has completed the subdivision of his own and Mr. Brainard's places. Three avenues have been laid out, one north and south between the property of Messrs. Brainard and Hart, named Hermosa, and two avenues running east and west from Baldwin to Hermosa avenues, named Esperanza and Bonita. Mr. Willard, of Pasadena, did the surveying. Mr. Willard is greatly pleased with the prospects of this place, and has bought a lot in Hosmer's subdivision where a $2000 cottage will soon be built.

The livery stable now seems to be a fact and will be commenced in a few days.

N. C. Carter has returned from a short visit East.

Rev. M. L. Gordon, pastor of the Congregational church here, starts East, with his family, this week, for a three month's visit to his old home in Massachusetts. The best wishes of his friends here go with him.

Out of six thousand orange trees which W. A. Spalding has just had budded, only two of that number failed to connect. Geo. Wallace, of Alhambra, did the budding. This speaks well for the budder, the good condition of the stock, and the fertility of the soil.

Mr. Steinberg, of this place, has a Washington Navel bud one year old in June budded into a stock probably five or six years old, and it has now thirty-five oranges about the size of hens' eggs; they have evidently come to stay. That is considerable precocious previousness—all owing to the g. o. of C.

Four different parties have gone up the Wilson trail from Sierra Madre the past week, with full camping outfits. It is becoming a very popular summer resort.

P. T. Reed and a company of other bold hunters, will take their regular hunting trip in the Sierra Madre next week.

Mr. Wilkinson, an architect from England, and relative of Dr. Gresham, is to settle here soon.

Sierra Madre claims to have some of the most public spirited and generous women to be found anywhere. To Miss F. H. Hawks, more than to any other, is due the credit of the building of the Episcopal church. She gave liberally of time, money and land for this object. The same lady made the first substantial move towards the erection of the public library, but her offer has since been gracefully withdrawn in favor of another. And now comes forward Mrs. Ross, a resident of this town, and with her own capital will build a twenty thousand dollar hotel [instead of ten thousand, as reported in my last] with spacious and beautiful lawn and grounds. The same lady gives one thousand dollars and a generous sized building site for the public library, which will be named the Sierra Madre Library, erected to the memory of Robert E. Ross. Neither of these projects is to have a wind foundation and newspaper superstructure, but good hard coin of the United States is in sight to push them to completion at once. All this is but the first wave of a genuine and substantial boom, which in the next twelve months will dot this beautiful hillside of Sierra Madre all over with residences, and business houses, too.

At a meeting of ladies and gentlemen held at the school house on Wednesday evening the greatest enthusiasm prevailed when the announcement was made by Mr. Wilson (Treasurer of the Library fund), that Mrs. Ross had made out and deposited a check of two thousand dollars instead of one thousand for the Library. An appeal was then made to those who had subscribed to increase their subscriptions and raise the whole amount to three thousand dollars. This appeal was responded to by nearly every one present and the amount greatly increased. A committee of five ladies and gentlemen was appointed to convey to Mrs. Ross the heartfelt thanks of the community for her generosity. An executive committee of three was appointed to get the Library Association in pract cal running order. A building committee was chosen to get plans for a building whose architectural beauty will make all other places green with envy. The meeting then adjourned to the call of the executive committee.

ONTARIO.

IMPROMPTU CELEBRATION—LAND SALES.

Correspondence of the Times.

ONTARIO, July 7.—No announcement was made of any celebration of the national holiday here and no movement was made to that end until late on Saturday afternoon. Shortly before the evening shadows began to fall, however, a few people bestirred themselves, a considerable sum of money was raised, a quantity of fireworks purchased and the sky was illuminated in thoroughly orthodox fashion. Considering the very limited time allowed for preparation, the display was exceedingly fine and would have done credit to a much larger and older place. What with bonfires, rockets, Roman candles, fire-wheels, torpedoes and "such," the pyrotechnic exhibition was both loud and lurid.

Land sales continue active, and home-seekers of the very best class still find their way here in large numbers, notwithstanding that we are nearing the middle of July. Since my report of a few days since, the land company have sold 30 acres on San Antonio avenue to Mrs. Murdock; 20 acres on Sixth street, to John Goodwin of Riverside; ten acres on Euclid avenue, to L. E. Mosher of Los Angeles; and a 2½ acre villa lot, to Miss Tette.

Mrs. Murdock has let the contract for breaking and preparing her ground for planting, and is having the plans prepared for the immediate erection of a neat, substantial and cosy house for herself and daughter. Mr. Goodwin, of Riverside, has already moved over and gone into possession. And Mr. Mosher, one of your prominent and most popular citizens, has added ten acres on the main avenue to his previous purchases, because land is cheap and will very speedily double in price.

Recent visitors to Ontario who had not seen the place for three or four months are amazed at the rapid progress being made. The model colony is making no noise, but is forging steadily ahead. Its inherent advantages are such as insure one of the very finest settlements in this attractive land.

As the passenger trains approach the station—and there are ten of them per day—people flock to the platform and windows to catch a glimpse of Euclid avenue, unfolding itself to the mountains seven miles away. It is safe to say that passing strangers will carry the pleasant vision in their mind's eye as long as they live.

The Ontario Hotel was illuminated with Chinese lanterns on Saturday evening, and presented a pretty picture from the east and south streets.

ROSEDALE.

THE SUBURBAN BOOM—THE ELECTRIC RAILWAY TRACK.

Correspondence of the Times.]

ROSEDALE, July 7.—The boom in real estate sales continues all through this section of the city suburbs. So many places have been recently sold and so many new tracts divided up and put upon the market that it has been almost impossible to keep up with the changes occurring.

The track of the electric railway on Pico street has been laid from the corner of Main street nearly to Figueroa, and is pushing out in our direction day by day. Rumor has it that it is striking for Santa Monica. Sooner or later that will probably be the terminus. The building of this road is helping forward the sale of the company's lots and those of other tracts in the vicinity.

The residents on Washington street and Vermont avenue made an earnest effort to raise the $6000 required to secure the immediate extension of the City street car line through those streets, but, though they subscribed generously, they failed to secure the full amount. Ultimately the enterprise must be carried through in this or some other form.

The public spirit of our citizens has been called out in an effort to raise money by private subscription to buy a bell for the schoolhouse and to ornament the grounds of the school premises. The sum of $135 has been raised, and will be soon expended.

At the last school election of the district B. A. Hoyt was elected trustee for three years, and Rev. L. D. Chapin for two years. Mr. Riley and Miss Hobbs, the teachers of last year, who gave universal satisfaction, have been re-appointed. The recent school census showed a large increase in the number of resident children, almost sufficient to entitle us to an additional teacher. Steps must soon be taken for the enlargement of our school house.

On the afternoon of the Fourth a fire broke out in the tank house of M. F. Tarble, on Washington street. Though neighbors immediately came to the rescue nothing could be done to save the building. Mr. Tarble is on a business tour at the East.

OBSERVER.

FINANCE AND TRADE.

OFFICE OF THE TIMES,
Los ANGELES, Thursday, July 8.

The sudden rise in Wheat at Chicago yesterday was short-lived, and the price fell 4½ cents to-day. In San Francisco to-day the market was steady and slightly higher. Trading in Wheat in this city is quiet and prices remain unchanged.

That mining in California is not quite played out is instanced from the fact that the Idaho Mining Company, of Grass Valley, has just paid its two hundredth dividend. The mine has produced about $6,000,000 since the start. The first dividend was paid in January, 1869. To date it has paid its half-a-dozen stockholders over $3,750,000 in dividends, or over $1,200 per share on its $100 shares of capital stock of the par value of $100 each.

The last tabulated statements of the National Banks are for June 3. The number reporting is 2806. These banks are to be found in every State in the Union, and in every Territory except Alaska and Indian. There are seventeen in California. The resources of the 2808 banks on the date named were $2,474,059,119. This amount includes $157,408,316 in specie and $79,644,780 in United States notes. The par value of the United States bonds held to secure circulation was $279,314,410 and the amount of notes issued against the same was $250,367,684. The amount to the credit of individual depositors was $1,146,118,-800. The combined capital was $588,989,-291. To the credit of this capital, after paying good dividends for years, there stands charged a surplus fund of $153,-572,934, besides $67,653,595 of undivided profits.

The shipments of Wheat from India from January 1st to June 12th, were 17,-564,000 bushels. The crop year in India begins April 1. The crop this year is said to be 16,000,000 bushels less than in 1884-85, and the amount for shipment during the year 1886-87 is estimated at 25,000,000 bushels.

Stocks and Bonds.

By Telegraph to The Times.

NEW YORK, July 8.—Government bonds dull, unchanged.

C. P. Huntington has renewed his proposition to the Pacific Mail Company to the effect that the company receive a subsidy of $25,000 per month after the first three months, and a lower rate during that period. Mr. Huntington said that he did not know whether the Pacific Mail Company could accept this proposition or not. The President of the Pacific Mail, however, said the situation was unchanged. The news from the Northwestern wheat fields was of a most favorable character, but the market was wholly influenced by manipulation.

Swift's Specific

Is Nature's own remedy, made from roots gathered from the forests of Georgia. The method by which it is made was obtained by a half-breed from the Creek Indians, who inhabited a certain portion of Georgia, which was communicated to one of the early settlers, and thus the formula has been handed down to the present day. The demand has been increasing until a $100,000 laboratory is now necessary to supply the trade. A foreign demand has been created, and enlarged facilities will be necessary to meet it. This great

Two Friends Meet.

"Hello! Old fellow! What have you been doing to yourself? You look like a subject for the undertaker," exclaimed the man on the right.

"I have been taking mercury and potash mixture until they have nearly ruined me," squeaked the old man on crutches.

"And I," said the other, "have been taking the genuine Swift's Specific, which has built me up from the very dregs."

Swift's Specific

Is Nature's own remedy, made from roots gathered from the forests of Georgia. The method by which it is made was obtained by a half-breed from the Creek Indians, who inhabited a certain portion of Georgia, which was communicated to one of the early settlers, and thus the formula has been handed down to the present day. The demand has been increasing until a $100,000 laboratory is now necessary to supply the trade. A foreign demand has been created, and enlarged facilities will be necessary to meet it. This great
